CHICKS RELISH GREEN FOOD

Mangels, Beets, Potatoes, Sprouted Oats, Lettuce and Lawn Clippings Are Good.

Green food is necessary for little chicks, according to the Connecticut Agricultural college. Among the most suitable and convenient crops for this are mangels, table beets, potatoes, sprouted oats, lettuce and lawn clippings. The season and availability will usually decide what to use. The principal thing is to use something of this nature. The feeding may begin on the second or third day. The little chicks must be taught to ent this or they may not develop an appetite for it. If they are fed sparingly of grain for a few days they will soon get to like the green feed. The mangels may be cut in large rieces and placed on nails for the chicks to peck at. Apples, etc., may be fed the same way.

Later in the season clover makes an ideal feed. With a double yarding system rye or oats may be used. One of the easiest ways to get green feed is to sprout gratu. A layer of sand about two inches deep kept warm and moist will soon produce a lot of oats or barley sprouts.

WATERCRESS EASY TO GROW

Loam, Leaves and Rotted Manure Is Satisfactory.

Watercress is easily grown in a tub for the table use in any kitchen gar-Sow the seed in shallow boxes -just sift it on the top soil. Then place a wet cloth over the soil to moisten the earth. This method prevents the seeds being washed to one corner, which usually occurs when watered with a sprinkler.

When four leaves appear on the plantiets they are ready for their permanent position. For that purpose A Clogged System Must Be use a barrel sawed in half. Fill in with garden loam, leaves and well-rot-ted manure. Work the dirt fine and bring the earth up to within ten inches of the top of the barrel.

Set the plants six inches apart each soil must be kept moist. Once a week carry off any sour deposits. Place a little small charcoal on the soil to keep it sweet and fresh. The cress is cut placed in a partly sandy place,

DRY-FARM CORN CULTIVATOR

"This invention relates to improvements in cultivators, and particularly to a corn cultivator, and has for an object the provision of an improved structure which is designed for use in what is known as dry farming, so as minimum, whereby the strength may go into the stalk and ear. Means previde for raising or towering the cutter so as to adapt the same to corn of various ages."

ORCHARD SITE IS IMPORTANT

Wherever Possible Trees Should Be Planted on Well-Drained Soil, With Southern Slope.

A good site is important when starting an orchard and if possible the trees should be planted on a well-drained southern slope. In some sections where early frosts cause serious losses a northern slope is the best, as the buds will not come out as early in the spring. This reduces the danger of losing the crop, but in general fruit growers seem to profit most on the well-drained southern slope. Hardy varieties that are cared for properly will usually thrive in any well-drained soil of fair

FEW HINTS ON SETTING TREE

One Must Be Careful That Roots Are Kept Moist At All Times-Sunshine Is Fatal.

There are a few general hints In setting a tree which should not be forgotten. Trees are living organisms and they cannot live if their roots are exposed for any length of time to the air or sunshine. So let us be very careful that we keep the roots moist at all times.

STARTED ON ANOTHER TRIP

Antics of Explorer Made Him Persons Non Grata With His Landlady and He Had to Move.

On his return from a long stay abroad, a well-known newspaper war correspondent took lodgings in a quiet London suburb and "engaged at target practice with an airgun," firing from the balcony of his sitting room at a wafer stuck on the wall over the dressing table in his bedroom.

The neighborhood, however, was too prim and genteel a place of sojourn to tolerate this irrepressible practical joker for any considerable length of time, and he soon had to leave it by reason of his feats with the airgun. One day he told the story of his somewhat abrupt departure.

That mischlevous secretary of mine," he says, "pretended that I could not knock the hat off a cabmar foring on a rank in the square opposite to the house. I did, worse luck! One of his mates saw me, and the long and short of it was that I had to comto reduce the foliage of the corn to a pensate cabby, and the landlady called on me and, when she had seated herself on a chair; began:

"I believe you are an explorer, Mr.

"I bowed, and murmured that some flattering persons did me the honor of putting me down as something of that

"In that case, sir, she exclaimed, 'I would advise you to start on an exploration for fresh apartments at once This is not a private madhouse."
